Thirteen hundred years ago, there came a great traveller from China to India in search of wisdom and knowledge. His name was Hiuen Tsang and over the deserts and mountains of the North he came, braving many dangers, facing and overcoming many obstacles – so great was his thirst for knowledge; and he spent many years in India learning himself and teaching others, especially at the great University of Nalanda, which existed then near the city that used to be called Pataliputra and is now known as Patna. Hiuen Tsang became very learned himself and he was given the title of 'Master of Law' – the Law of the Buddha: and he journeyed all over India and saw and studied the people that lived in this great country, in those far-off days. Later he wrote a book of his travels, and it is this book which contains the story that comes to my mind.

- (a) Who was Hieun Tsang?
- (b) Why did he come to India?
